

JUDGE'S SUMMATION

Walter Martin Memorial Championship Show, Saturday, August 26, 2023

The weather was excellent for showing allowing for a most enjoyable day for all. The show organisation was excellent and ran on time with dogs consistently prepared for the next class. This was achieved by coordinated work from the Chief Steward John Fenner, Steward Kerrie Pearce, Stenographer Leanne Irvine and gun assistant Robyn Knuckey, who also assisted with providing an outstanding lunch. I was ably looked after with accommodation and transport by Kerrie Pearce and Ian Heard who opened their home to me and made me feel most welcome.

There were a number of very good quality animals presented throughout the classes and I felt most pleased to judge dogs of this quality. What was very evident was the strong influence of Wulkano-Uno Von Schnitzerteam (Imp Hun) Bsc1.1 Az who produced 6 individual class winners and thirteen place winners with 1,2, and 3 in the intermediate stock coat bitch class.

Some issues that presented were that several specimens were not quite correct in front. This mostly stemmed from a tendency to slab sidedness, creating a narrowness of the chest and the subsequent turning out of the feet for balance. Further this is coupled with looseness of the elbows and a paddling action of the pasterns and feet. This creates a less efficient movement, beside the associated potential health issues. Issues in the length and lay of the upper arm were quite common with the associated restriction in reach. The temperaments were sound and well trained for the dentition check. Clearly work is done as a group as almost without exception the dogs performed an out and back under control which assisted the role of judging. The open classes were gun tested, although there was a slight difficulty with the operation of the gun. All exhibits passed.

The sportsmanship was of the highest standard, accepting the comments made in good faith. It appeared and was expressed to me personally that many exhibitors enjoyed the judging. Overall, it was a most enjoyable day and the people left a positive lasting impression. It was a most enjoyable experience and one I would be more than happy to revisit in the future.
